Grant Hansen Elliott passed away at home on April 2, 2003 following a valiant fight with cancer. He will be greatly missed by his family, friends, and all who had the good fortune to know him in this life.

Grant was born September 14, 1919 in Provo, Utah, the son of Robert Lester and Alice Bergittee Elliott. He married Pauline Cox in the Manti Temple on June 27, 1947.

He was a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints having served missions to Hawaii and West Virginia, as a seminary teacher for 16 years, a temple worker, and various other callings. He was always willing to serve in any capacity where he was needed.

During his childhood, he learned the great lessons of service and the law of the harvest as he worked with his parents, brothers, and sisters on the family fruit farm. He graduated from Lincoln High School in 1938 and earned his degree from BYU in 1949. As a teacher in both the public and the private sectors, he touched the lives of thousands of students. One of his choicest accomplishments was the "Elliott Gold" apple; a feat he referred to as "his gift from God."
